Building of Large U.S.O. Recreational Centre Here Is Authorized by Council

City council Tuesday night relaxed the building regulations to permit the erection of a $90,000 U.S.O. recreation centre at the south west intersection of 100 street and 103 avenue by Canadian contractors under supervision of the U.S.O. United States Engineers.

Council Sets Voting Hours For Election

Voting hours for the municipal election to be held on Wednesday, November 10, were fixed from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. by a bylaw passed unanimously by city council Tuesday night. The voting hours in last year's election were 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The half-hour extension was made on the motion of Ald. H. D. Ainlay, who reported that a number of persons had failed to register their vote last year because they were unable to get to their polling station after they had finished work.

He said that in these days of intense employment that situation would be considerably heightened, and that the time allocated for the casting of ballots should be extended to the limit.

OPPOSES EXTENSION

Ald. Sidney Borewell opposed the extension. He said that the hours in operation last year gave ample opportunity to all electors to get to the polls. He said that the extension would be given to deputy returning officers and poll clerks if the hours were extended.

An amendment to the Ainlay motion that the hours prevailing last year should be the voting hours in the November election moved by Ald. J. H. Ogilvie was defeated, and the motion carried.

It was intimated to council by City Clerk Alfred Russell that no money bylaws were to be voted on at the election.

Council agreed that the continuing aldermen form a committee to report on polling stations, campaign meetings, appointments and rates of pay, the report to be submitted to the next council meeting.

Revision of the voters lists will be completed by G. W. Archibald, Edmonton barrister, his appointment being confirmed by city council Tuesday. Revision of the lists opened on Tuesday and will continue for the next several days.

Great Allied Fleet Leaves Gibraltar

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin. Copyright, 1943, by British United Press. MADRID, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Admiral Sir Louis Mountbatten, in a massive Anglo-American fleet, including the British battleship King George V, two British aircraft carriers and a United States battleship, moved out of Gibraltar harbor into the Mediterranean today.

The U.S. battleship was not identified in the information reaching here from the border town near the naval base.

The aircraft carriers were said to be the Illustrious and Formidable, both of 33,000 tons. They were accompanied by four British and three American destroyers.

The fleet, headed by the 35,000-ton battlecruiser Queen Elizabeth, included nine destroyers, including nine damaged ships. Two tankers were said to be among the ships at Gibraltar.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Berlin report reported today that Russia had launched a great new offensive on a 200-mile central front and signs increased that the Red army was squaring off for an attempt to wrest the Crimea from Nazi hands.

Nazi broadcasts reported an attempted Soviet landing in the Yalta area of the South Crimea, and Moscow dispatches told of a heavy artillery shelling Korch, coastal town tipping the peninsula of the same name comprising the eastern Crimea.

The Berlin radio acknowledged "temporary" breaches in its lines as a result of a "heavy" Soviet offensive along the entire central front west of Smolensk to the area of Gomel in lower White Russia.

"Numerous" Soviet infantry divisions strongly supported by tank formations attacked, Nazi broadcasts said, but since the reparations had been observed the Germans were not caught off guard. Red air force planes in "great numbers" supported the onslaught, Berlin said.

"Temporary breaches were sealed off by immediate counter-thrusts," the Berlin radio said, "and some Soviet points of departure were even wrested from them."

The Red army has driven within two miles of Kiev, great German base on the Dniester river, the newspaper Jevropa announced today in Moscow.

"Kiev is ahead," a front-line dispatch said. "We can see the city from the air. The Kiev Pechna River (biggest and oldest of Russian rivers) is in our hands. The city of the Council of the People's Commissars of the Ukraine."

Opening the second day of debate in Commons on the government's coal policy, Churchill bluntly rejected suggestions that the drafting of miners be halted and that coal men be released from the armed forces to work in the pits.

"In the advent of the bloodiest fighting of the war, so far as this people are concerned, I am not prepared to weaken the field forces or the reserves of trained manpower lying behind them, beyond a limited number of older men approved by the cabinet," he said.

Churchill declared that he would not accept the miners' proposal for nationalization of the coal mines without a general election which would upend the national unity at a critical moment.

"Unless we are relieved by some altogether unexpected collapse on the part of the enemy, which we would be absolute fools to count upon, the worst fighting of the war, so far as this country is concerned, is ahead."

Churchill Warns Bloodiest Fighting of War Lies Ahead

By J. EDWARD MURRAY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin. Copyright, 1943, by British United Press.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned today that the bloodiest fighting of the war lies ahead.

"The worst fighting of the war, so far as this country is concerned, is ahead," he said. "We are now in the midst of the most desperate struggle of the war, and the worst fighting of the war, so far as this country is concerned, is ahead."

Premier Badoglio Denounces Nazis' Arrogance, Treachery In Proclamation to People

By RICHARD D. McHILLAN
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin. Copyright, 1943, by British United Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 13.—Italy declared today on Germany, its one-time ally, and was granted the status of a co-belligerent by the United Nations.

The declaration, made in a proclamation by Premier Pietro Badoglio, came 35 days after Italy signed the armistice that removed her from the ranks of nations giving military assistance to Germany.

"Italians! There will not be peace in Italy as long as a single German remains on Italian soil," Badoglio said in his proclamation.

(In Washington it was announced that Prime Minister Winston Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Josef Stalin had issued a joint statement congratulating Italy on her action. The statement said that the granting of a status of co-belligerent to Italy did not affect the terms of the armistice granted to Badoglio.)

Bitter Denunciation of Germans

Badoglio's proclamation contained a bitter denunciation of German "arrogance and ferocity," German troops, he said, had compelled some Italian units to disarm and had attacked others. He denounced "robbery and violence" on the part of the Germans in Naples and said the actions of the German troops in Naples "surpassed every limit of the human imagination."

"Shoulder to shoulder we must march forward with our friends of the United States, of Great Britain, of Russia and of all the other United Nations," Badoglio's proclamation said.

Badoglio sent a note to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, informing him of the declaration of war and saying that "all ties with the dreadful past are broken."

To Notify Ambassador in Madrid

Formal notification of the fact that Italy has declared war on her will reach the Germans through their embassy in Madrid. Badoglio asked the Italian ambassador there to deliver the announcement to the Germans.

(It was stated at Ottawa that the government of Canada has been kept informed of the proceedings leading to this announcement and is in general agreement with its terms.)

The Italian premier said the Italians would be free to remove their own government after the war. In the meantime, he said, he planned to call his cabinet.

Churchill said that the British Columbia has lost her own great northern area and it must be won back. Hon. Herbert Anscombe, provincial minister of public works, told a meeting of the Associated Property Owners of Vancouver Inc. last night.

"You never hear Vancouver or Victoria discussed in the north," he said. "Everyone speaks only of Edmonton."

Mr. Anscombe who spent some time in that country last summer said that the first rest in 10 days would be taken by the Alberta cabinet. The longer this state of things exists, the worse for British Columbia. We've got to realize that country is part of our province and we are responsible for the operation of "Owl" cars.

Ald. H. D. Ainlay pointed out that the heavy traffic on the "Owl" cars was on Saturday night, and he could not see any reason why the fare should be reduced for the benefit of these patrons.

He added that employees coming off shift at the C.N.R. shops, Calder, the Canadian Pacific Airways plant, 118 avenue and 124 street, Alder, street railway superintendent, that the reduction if put into effect would mean a loss of $183 weekly instead of a profit of approximately $1,000 per week in the operation of "Owl" cars.

Being Repatriated

221 Canadians Reported Aboard Exchange Vessel

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—(CP)—An exchange vessel is expected today to bring the names of 221 Canadians among the civilians being repatriated from Japan and Germany, occupying countries who are expected at Marmagosa, Portugal, today.

The list was received from the Swiss authorities who are protecting Canadian interests in the Far East as the names of those who embarked on the Japanese exchange ship Teia Maru.

Pr. Marmagosa the repatriates will be transferred to the Swedish liner Grisholm which is expected to land them in New York early in December, calling en route at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, and Rio de Janeiro.

The repatriates are from Japan, Manchukuo, Korea, Hong Kong, occupied China, French Indo-China and the Philippines Islands.

At least 65 are later expected to be repatriated to Canada.

Mayor Urges Stoppage Now Of Evictions

With two families evicted during the last two days without alternative accommodation, and with other similar evictions pending, Mayor John W. Fry Wednesday appealed to Ottawa city council to stop evictions now.

Mayor Fry said that one of the first of the 250 homes being erected here by wartime housing authority will be ready for occupancy until early in November, and no other accommodation appears to be available in the city.

He asked Mr. MacKinnon to take this up with the responsible minister, and that evictions are frozen in the city until homes are available.

Text of the telegram sent to Mr. MacKinnon follows: "The first war-time housing authority will be ready for occupancy until early in November. Two families, one of seven and the other of six, evicted here last night, are in need of accommodation for them and similar cases of which we have direct knowledge."

URGES ACTION
"I implore you take this matter up with the minister concerned to freeze evictions in the city until wartime housing in the city is available to take care of situation."

Two-Year Term Imposed For Theft Charges

William H. Edgar, North Edmonton resident, was found guilty in supreme court Wednesday of the theft of a car. Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald on a charge of receiving stolen property, sentenced him to a two-year term in the Public Reformatory, with the proviso that if he fails to pay the property of M. S. M. North, he will be sentenced to a two-year term in the Prince Albert penitentiary on charges, the sentence to run concurrently.

Police investigating the disappearance of two trucks from the Public Roads Administration found a quantity of tools, including chains, tire irons and other articles at the farm home of accused. The two trucks were found there also, with the hay rack attached to one of them. At the time the search of premises was made, he was accused of fixing the hay rack to one of the trucks.

British people are concerned, he said.

Prime minister's firm stand against nationalization of the mines and release of miners from military service was expected to cause a parliamentary division at the close of the debate, although the mining districts still appeared dissatisfied.

WONT SEEK VOTE

Arthur Greenwood, concluding the Labour speech in answer to Churchill, announced in effect that Labour would not seek a vote for a vote on the coalition. His statement was interpreted as an indication that Churchill had won a victory and saved the situation for the government.

The Labor party as a whole decided not to vote against the government when it met in a long executive session before the house convened.

PARLIAMENTARY MOVES

Churchill laid out at "political effect" the effect of the coalition and changes under the pretext of wartime necessity, and inferentially repeated the proposals that the Beveridge social security plan be adopted while the war is still in progress.

I could not but be impressed by the fact that Churchill had previously admitted for undertaking that the great crisis was not yet at hand, but that it would require to be rationalized by a government by date. Therefore, we must resist all such proposals.

He said that at the end of the war there would be a general agreement among the nations of the world to secure a permanent peace.

Homemaker's Bureau Director Lauds Canadian Food Supply

By JANE MEYER

"Canada has more meat and essential foods than I have seen in months. People here are fortunate to have this a spite of rationing," Mrs. Julia L. Wright, director of the Safeway Stores Homemaker's Bureau, said in a radio address to the United States of America via the Public Roads Administration, with the aid of the property of M. S. M. ## Building Large U.S.O. Centre Is Authorized Here

Further negotiation with the Dominion government and United States Army authorities. They suggested several sites that would be suitable for a large building, and that a $500,000 building could be considered a temporary building, and not a permanent one.

It was considered that the project by the Town Planning Commission was justified, as the proposal would interpose a building with the plans approved for the site.

APPROVE PROJECT

Mr. R. C. Moffitt, executive officer, United States Engineers office, said that the building had been received for $500,000 and a directive to proceed with the construction of the building. It was approved before council for permission to initiate and complete that directive, he said.

He cited the terms of the agreement between Canada and the United States concerning the disposal of movable buildings at the construction of the building. He said that he was not empowered to make a final decision on the terms of that agreement. The agreement calls for the disposal of all movable buildings within one year of the termination of the war.

He said the building was being carried to carry on the work of the American Red Cross for the benefit of the Canadian people.

Navy League Numbers Grow: Work Is Praised

Strength of the sea cadets has increased from 2,000 at the outbreak of war to 12,000 at present, and officials of the Navy League of Canada, sponsors of the sea cadets, are confident that the number of members will be achieved, H. R. Oillard, Toronto, managing secretary of the Navy League of Canada, stated on arrival here to confer with the chief of the officers in northern Alberta.

He paid high tribute to the work of the Navy League of Canada, stating that the record of accomplishment here could be achieved only by the very hard work and splendid teamwork of the officers in northern Alberta.

Gillard said the league was proud of the fact that former cadets had taken part in every war since 1900. He said that many of them had won decorations, or had been mentioned in dispatches.

He made a special plea for work to undertake the knitting of special socks to be used in combating "immersion loss." The league requires 10,000 of these socks immediately, with the Northern Alberta branch contributing 1,000.

PLACED IN LIFEBOATS

The knitted sock is forwarded to Toronto where it is heavily impregnated with vaseline. These socks are placed in lifeboats and are put on by the men to prevent stoppage of circulation with the attendant danger of gangrene.

Urge Province To Establish Child Hostel

Declaring that it was not the function of municipalities to supply or operate hostels for day care of children of mothers engaged in war industry, Edmonton city council Tuesday night urged the provincial government to proceed with its agreement with the Dominion government to provide these hostels.

The provincial government, following completion of an agreement with the Dominion government to provide these services, invited the city of Edmonton to participate in the operation and supply of these hostels.

It was proposed that the city should participate to the extent of 25 per cent in the 50 per cent share contracted for by the provincial government with the Dominion.

It was pointed out that Alberta was the only province in which the municipalities were being asked to shoulder any portion of the cost of the supplying and operation of these hostels.

NEED REALIZED

Members of the city council said that from a recent study of the needs of the city, it was apparent that there was a need for at least one of these hostels in the city.

The city commissioners did not consider that this was a matter that should involve the city.

It was really an integral part of running the war, and as such should be administered solely by the Dominion government in conjunction with the employers concerned in the war.

Homes Survey Will Be Made By Government

Survey of homes available in Edmonton for conversion into suites will be made here about the middle of this month by F. W. Nicholls, Dominion director of housing.

According to advice received by Mayor John W. Fry, if there appears to be sufficient homes suitable for conversion into housing units it is the intention of the Dominion housing director to commence operations here as soon as possible after his visit.

Application forms to participate in the conversion plan may be had at the civic block on application to the commissioners' office. The conversion of homes into suites will be carried out under the national housing administration under a grant of $20,000 made available for this work in the city of Edmonton.

The housing conversion plan is a plan whereby additional housing units are made available in the shortest possible time, with the least use of critical materials and at the lowest cost. It is a plan by the owner of an existing house or other building suitable for conversion into cooperative housing, the government in its aim to provide additional housing in congested areas and may at the same time have his property improved, modernized or otherwise sublet to a revenue producing property.

In specified districts the government will lease from owners property suitable for conversion into apartments under the following conditions:

The negotiations with the owner, the duration of the plan, the nature of the work and the maintenance and operation of the property will be under the direction of the national housing administration, department of finance, under the government of Canada.

The rental payable by the government to the owner will be based on the present value of the property and will depend upon the amount of work required to convert the property. This rental is the subject of a bill now in the House of Commons.

TERMS OF LEASE

The lease between the owner and the government is for five years, subject to a renewal for an additional five years, and also subject to cancellation by the government at any time.

The owner is required to take care of all taxes and mortgage payments. The taxes are increased, the government will pay to the owner the amount of the annual amount of increased taxes. The government will not lease properties that are in an area which is restricted against multiple housing units. If there is a mortgage against the property, the terms of the mortgage must be so amended before the work can proceed.

The government does not insure property in which it is interested. The owner may maintain fire insurance and pay all premiums. He will be advised as to the cost of the work by which the value of his property is increased so that he may increase his insurance coverage accordingly, if he so desires.

He plans for altering will be prepared by local architects or the architectural division of the National Housing Administration. They will be made to suit the owner as nearly as possible, and his approval will be secured before the project goes ahead.

MASSIVE STROKES

This idea is beginning to take root is evidenced by the recent statement by General MacArthur, in which he recognizes the absurdity of hopping from island to island and recommends that we approach Japan in large massive strokes. Clearly the General is watching the activities of our bombardment aviation, has learned a great deal.

But we airman carry that logic to its logical conclusion. We are our present stage of aviation science. We urge that the whole strategy be reduced to one massive stroke—from Alaska direct to the Japanese islands in a shattering overhead offensive.

Paratroop Squad For North Rescues

Modern progress is coming to the northern airman in yet another way and it is a famed northern bush pilot pioneer who is showing the way.

Capt. W. R. "Wop" Mac, O.B.E., D.F.C., war veteran and pioneer of the northern air force, has announced the organization here of a parachute rescue squad that will go to the aid of airmen forced down in the wilds of the north country.

The manager of No. 2 A.O.S. has announced that the first two members of what will become a much larger rescue squad have volunteered for training in the parachute rescue work.

They are Scott Thompson, a wireless operator, and Owen Hargreaves, an Australian from No. 2 A.O.S.

Capt. Mac got his idea after reading a book about the rescue of airmen being lost in far northern Quebec and other parts of the north.

He then turned to parachute rescuers follows that used by the U.S. foray services in fighting fire. The fire was parachuted into areas threatened by bush fires.

British Children To Get Oranges

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(CP)—Hungary Britain learned yesterday that oranges have reached this country for youngsters only. Food Minister Lord Woolton said children up to five will receive two pounds of oranges each, and those between five and 14 will get one pound. Retailers must reserve their supplies for children for five days after receiving their stocks, then the remainder can be cleared without restriction.

Tram Smokers Get "Reprieve" Of Two Weeks

Smokers on Edmonton's street cars were given a "reprieve" of at least two weeks when Aldermen C. E. Garvey and Sidney Persons voted against the third reading of the bylaw designed to abolish the practice of smoking in the rear seat of trams.

A unanimous vote of council was necessary to give the bylaw third reading at a sitting of the council, and it will have to be presented at the next meeting for final passage.

The proposed amendment would "no person shall smoke any cigarette or other substance while on any public passenger vehicle operated by the street railway department."

URGES WINTER BAN

Alderman Guy Patterson, K.C., asked that consideration be given to limiting the time of the smoking prohibition to the winter months when over-crowding of the street cars was heaviest. He said that no hardship was worked on anyone in permitting smoking in the rear seat during the summer.

Alderman Mrs. G. A. Clarke asked it would not be possible to permit smoking in the early hours, and mentioned 8 a.m. as the cut-off time for this privilege.

City Commissioner H. J. Gibb said it would be necessary to enforce a bylaw that was operative during different hours of the day.

Alderman Garvey was prepared to support the bylaw passage but was restricted to the winter months. He said that further consideration should be given to permitting smoking during the summer period, and intimated he would reopen the matter next year.

Passage of the bylaw is a foregone conclusion when it comes before council at the next regular meeting as the majority of the aldermen voted that it receive third reading and be finally passed when the vote was taken Tuesday night.

Nazi Cry "Extortion" British Converting Azores Into Anti-Submarine Bases

LONDON, Oct. 13.—British air, sea and ground forces converted the Portuguese Azores into bases for the anti-submarine war today when Germany raised cries of "extortion" and hinted at retaliation against Portugal.

Swiss and Swedish dispatches quoted Berlin sources that Germany would react officially only after receipt of the "most specific" information from the German government. The "most specific" information, however, diplomatic observers doubted that Germany would declare war on Portugal.

There were indications that an official German statement would be issued today. German ambassador to Portugal, General von Hönninghausen, German ambassador to the Portuguese premier, Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, for an hour yesterday.

U.S. Workers Buy Additional Bonds

In just 10 minutes after the moving picture "Masters of Deceit" had been shown to U.S. Engineering personnel at the Jesuit College Tuesday they subscribed an additional $100,000 in cash and T.O.U.s in the Third U.S. War Bond drive.

The movie is a training film shown in troops before they go overseas. It portrays the stark realism of war without any Hollywood frills or heroics.

Before the film was seen the workers had subscribed $66 per cent of the $100,000 goal.

Pleased with the response of his people at the bond rally, Brigadier General D. D. Worthington, commanding officer of the U.S. Engineers here, explained the necessity for more bond purchases.

He said that in 1942 when the United States was on the defensive the war cost 71 million dollars a day. When the United States was on the offensive it jumped to 198 million dollars a day and now that things are going full blast the war costs have jumped to 365 million dollars a day or 10 million dollars an hour.

That is why anyone must continue to buy War Bonds even though the Third U.S. War Loan was completed.

possible of the Balkan Axis satellites, with the Allies offering military assistance.

It was not expected that the entire program could be realized immediately. The program represents minimum short-term objectives on which Allied diplomats are working.

The Portuguese move also sets a precedent for possible similar action by Turkey under the terms of the Anglo-Turkish alliance which has remained suspended thus far under circumstances generally paralleling those governing the Portuguese treaty.

It is obvious that transit rights for Allied troops and air bases in Turkey would be most useful for any Allied operations in the Balkans. Thus the British, with 10th army in the Levant could move directly into Greece and Bulgaria and have access to the Black sea and the Bulgarian and Rumanian coasts.

Servicemen Come First

Thanks to the efforts of the War Services Council of Alberta, which has sent a representative to the City Council meeting last night, the USO recreation project in downtown Edmonton has been endorsed conditionally by the civic authorities.

If the United States Red Cross, which proposes to erect the structure, can secure an undertaking from the city government that the building, which will stand on Edmonton and proposed civic centre site at 100 street and 1303 avenue, will be moved within a year, the project will be permitted to proceed.

This is a distinct triumph for those who take the war seriously enough to believe that the men and women of the armed forces come first in all social enterprise. For opposition to this proposal was strenuous.

It was opposed by the town planning authorities, who saw in the temporary structure on its proposed site a violation of the zoning regulations. It was opposed by selective service officials who feared that the use of carpenters for this purpose would divert workmen from the home building program.

The argument of the War Services Council was simply that while these state matters might be true, it was still a fact that the needs of those who are fighting in the war, the men and women of the armed forces, British or Americans or anything else, must be served first.

The decision establishes an important and worthwhile precedent.

Mid Ocean Filling Stations

The Azores lie less than two-thirds of the way from ports in the Maritime provinces and the New England states to Portugal. They flank the Atlantic, ship lanes across the North Atlantic and are virtually on the more southerly route followed by the majority of vessels in winter time. The importance of the Azores as naval bases in the islands which Portugal has put at the disposal of Britain and its Allies is thus obvious.

These are the best of all outposts from which to maintain air and sea patrol of the mid-Atlantic, and Allied convoys can be met as fully protected in that area as they have been in the coastal zones on either side. As bases from which to carry out the vigorous offensive launched against enemy submarines, the Azores, and allied airfields and harbors will be equally useful. The securing of these will go a long way to counter the U-boats, which the U-boats have been equipped in an effort to restore their effectiveness.

It is an easy hop for a sub-hunter bomber from the Azores, which is convenient to the Azores, and with fuelling facilities there the patrol planes will have to turn back when half-way across to refill their tanks. They flank the Azores, responding advantage to destroyers and smaller warships, which cannot carry enough fuel to maintain a long patrol in the way across. Based on the Azores, these can use their speed with full effect in the part of the ocean where that has not been hitherto possible.

The anti-submarine war can therefore be carried on with redoubled energy, thanks to the mid-ocean filling stations.

He's Only the Figurehead

Observers in London who are described as "qualified" experts in European affairs are going so well for the Allies that the Nazi empire may collapse this fall. They do not mean that Germany is likely to be so quickly beaten in military sense, but that Hitler's generals may out him and his party and try to salvage their own prestige and the country's remaining military strength by negotiating a treaty.

Should that happen it will be in the tradition of the military caste. They made the Kaiser a scape-goat at the end of the first world war, and they made a compromise settlement which left them with both power and pretence with which to engineer another drive for world domination. They capitalized these assets saved from the former defeat, and upon them built the popular will to war and the machinery with which to make that will effective. That the militarists will try for a repeat performance seems likely enough when they decide that the cause did for world domination has failed. But that they have already come to accept that decision is doubtful.

The London observers could be better employed than in proclaiming the imminent downfall of Hitler, despite the multiplying troubles which are obviously threatening in upon him. The idea that the idea got wide acceptance in the Allied countries it could do only harm to them, to their resolution, their war effort, and their outlook for an enduring peace. Such people can never get by negotiation with the junkers. They have to be destroyed as a force for mischief in the Germany of the future.

Nazism is only a re-hash of the militaristic ambitions which the Prussian old has imposed upon Germany since the days of Bismarck. To hang Hitler and Himmler and the other headmen of the Nazi party would not make Germany a safe neighbor for the other nations. Prussianism must be put out of business, completely and finally, as a force in the shaping of public opinion and national policy. The ousting of Adolf would no more guarantee peace to the world than did the ousting of Wilhelm.

It is stated officially that a ship slides down the ways in a Canadian shipyard every day. At the lowest calculation the output of Canadian yards alone is fairly in prospect of equalling the losses likely to be suffered through enemy sinkings in the North Atlantic, despite the "new device" with which the Nazi submarines are said to have been equipped.

It was strictly in keeping with Nazi morals and methods to plant a delayed-action mine in the collar of the Naples port, which blew up the Italian liner, and scores of people of all ages and both sexes. The surprising thing is that the Italians did not know their late associates would be enabled to keep away from the place until it had been thoroughly searched. Unless the fear of reprisals is driven into their demoralized minds the Nazis will convert every place and every mine field before they leave it. No person has any right to expect anything else.

Thursday night 60 German planes crossed the English coast, 15 of which got to London, dropped 30 tons of bombs, and 10 per cent of their number. The same night a three-hour procession of bombers streamed across the Channel from British bases to blast Stuttgart, Friedrichshafen and Munich. The machines only being lost in these and mine-laying operations. enemy coastal waters. What weight of bombs was dropped on the three targets was not immediately announced, but was supposed to have been somewhere around the 2,000 ton mark that has now become common. This contrast fairly reveals the power of the striking power of Allied and Nazi air forces.

It will be seen what a very early indication of the local farmer in this case. As the local supply of wheat is less than the local demand for flour, the farmer is being forced to sell his wheat at a price which is below the market price.

The securing of these will go a long way to counter the U-boats, which the U-boats have been equipped in an effort to restore their effectiveness.

It is an easy hop for a sub-hunter bomber from the Azores, which is convenient to the Azores, and with fuelling facilities there the patrol planes will have to turn back when half-way across to refill their tanks.

They flank the Azores, responding advantage to destroyers and smaller warships, which cannot carry enough fuel to maintain a long patrol in the way across.

Based on the Azores, these can use their speed with full effect in the part of the ocean where that has not been hitherto possible.

The anti-submarine war can therefore be carried on with redoubled energy, thanks to the mid-ocean filling stations.

British Papers Denounce Globe Trotting Senators

Expedition Was Mostly Political In View of Press

By HAROLD L. WEIR

British newspapers, say press dispatches, are highly incensed over the statements of the United States senators who recently made a quick dash across the Atlantic, immediately, of course, became possessed of all the profound and intimate details of the world's struggle.

The five senators have been giving out some of their views on the situation and conclusions. Here is the gist of them.

That the British are not the Americans, deprecating American imperialism, and not exaggerating American imperialism, refusing to pull their weight in the war and no intention of doing so.

That the British are not the Americans, deprecating American imperialism, and not exaggerating American imperialism, refusing to pull their weight in the war and no intention of doing so.

Roosevelt administration has sold out to the British with their hope that Mr. Roosevelt will do the same.

These men were hunting big political game. And they were so in their making that they did not even see the smaller things.

Doubtless they would be amazed if they were told that their activities were for nearly a decade a victory.

So why blame them? They are playing the game according to their own rules. Those rules might stink. But there are no.

Further proof that the senatorial junket was a purely political junket in the fact that Henry Cabot Lodge was a member of it.

Now Henry Cabot Lodge is a member of the same name who, with his "little group of wild men," succeeded in quitting Woodrow Wilson after the war, wrecking Wilson's League of Nations and setting the scene for the present League of Nations.

The present League of Nations is the result of the League of Nations. It is the result of the League of Nations.

How can anyone take seriously—even their own people—the testimony they have to offer?

Unstable

The present instability of this group, which sees fit to advance a political purpose by endangering the unity of the United Nations, is shown in the dispute that has broken out among its own members.

Apparently the Senate has agreed to make a report to the Senate jointly.

EVIDENTLY Jack McIntyre must have anticipated the first snow of the season would be along this morning, thus putting him in a very receptive mood for all matters pertaining to the "roarin' game." In any event last night's message from the secretary of the Royal Cup regarding the semi-annual meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 2, was received very nicely.

After being without rink facilities for just one year, Vancouver is expected to have ice available again this coming winter. The army authorities have suggested turning back the Forum in Hastings Park and plans are accordingly going ahead for the return of hockey to the coast city. Could it be that Edmonton might... Oh, well, what's the use?

It's Lt. Paul Clifford Laidlaw, of Vancouver, popular sports officer at No. 3 "46" Depot is being married to Miss Adelle Jane Larsen, formerly of Evansville, in the chapel at the Depot on Friday evening. Lt. L. M. Swan will be the officiating padre.

Ralph Daislin's Aggies are scheduled to make a bid for a spot in the Intercollegiate Football at Y. City this afternoon. They take on the league-leading St. Paul's team and go back against Arts-Con-Law tomorrow. One win will deadlock them with Engineers. The circuit which Tommy Hays presided over is producing an excellent brand of football this season.

EMPTY SEAT
ALTHOUGH every seat in the St. Louis ball park had been sold for last Sunday's game between the Yankees and Cardinals, one seat was empty—and behind that empty seat a story involving Bill Stern in his "Sports Newsweek". It goes back to 1927 when Tommy Hays presided over the World Series. The star then was Babe Ruth, just before the start of one of the games to be played in St. Louis.

Edmonton on Roster Maple Leafs Leave for Camp To Begin Season's Training

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs, 29 strong, Tuesday left for St. Catharines to begin training for the 1943-44 National Hockey League season which they open here Oct. 30 against New York Rangers.

There were only three veterans in the roster of 25 players. Clarence (Happy) Day presented himself with two others saw some service last winter. The veterans were Bob Davidson, left wing who was named as captain of the team for the season, Lorne Carr and Bucko McDonald.

The two who had comparable experience last season were Jackie McLean, who played in Leafs' home games and saw action in two of three contests away from home, and Jackie Hamilton, who was signed up to play centre in game after Syl Applegate broke his leg in a game with Boston last January.

McLean is a university student and other student players are Tommy O'Neil and two others. Frank Dunlop of Ottawa both of whom are attending St. Michael's College, O'Neil and Dunlop played with St. Mike's juniors last season and Dunlop has been playing football this season with Ottawa Combines in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. He said that he would be playing with Combines any more this year.

Newcomers from Toronto included Elwyn Morris and Bob Johnson. The latter played with Ottawa Generals in the junior O.H.A. last season while Morris, former Toronto Argonaut football star, played with the navy senior team in the O.H.A. last winter.

Others were: Norm Matthews and Jim Thomson of Winnipeg; Jack McCormack of Edmonton; George Boothman of Calgary; Ross Knowles of Fort William; Red Carr of Nanaimo, B.C.; Gord Bower and Albert Eshewich of Port Arthur. They announced that Bill Bodin of Chicago Black Hawks had agreed to let Knowles, a 23-year-old veteran, play with Leafs. There was a dispute between the two clubs about him.

Boosts Total '43 Earnings To $31,425

BAITIMORE, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Displaying the form which carried him to the top of the three-year-old hoop last season, Shut Out carried the pink and black silks of the Greenlee Stable to victory in the $10,000-added Laurel Stakes before a Columbus Day crowd of 13,444 persons at Pimlico Tuesday.

Equipoise's best son had to go all the way in the stretch to win the 200 running of this transplant. Shut Out, trained by the late Laurel Park fixture, edging out Mrs. Josephine Grimes' With Regards by a neck after the two had raced side by side down the stretch.

With Regards, making his second start in four days, sprinted into an early lead which Shut Out followed. The victory was Shut Out's fourth in his start this year, and the $1,715 he earned boosted his 1943 total to $13,510.

Third money was taken by Calumet Farm's Son of Peace, which finished a tough behind With Regards. David Straus' Daily Trouble was fourth in the field of seven.

Engineers Lose Out 6-5

Med-Pharm-Dents Now Lead Varsity Interfac Gridders

Med-Pharm-Dents took out a 6-5 win over Engineers at Varsity stadium on Tuesday and as a result now lead the University Interfacity Football League by a single point.

Applies with two games still to play can the Engineers for second place and a chance in the playoffs by winning either against the Meds this afternoon or tomorrow when they clash with Arts-Con-Law.

Engineers must play in front in the first quarter yesterday when Jack Setters intercepted a pass thrown by Bruce Mackay on the Meds' 20-yard line and galloped over for a touchdown. There was no convert.

The Med-Pharm-Dent combine drew within two points of the Slide-Riders in the second session. Several Meds crashed through the Engineers' defense and Ken Bradshaw tackled Alex Richardson practically on the latter's own line and forced him over for a safety touch.

The Meds added another point when Art Foltzett roughed Dave Fairbairn just before the half-time whistle went.

Jacks won the game in the third quarter on a field goal. Bradshaw went around the right end for a score of 20 yards, carrying the ball to the Engineers' 15 before being defended by Ken Kuwahara. When Mel O'Brien tried to go over the line, Bradshaw tackled him for a placement for three points to give him a 6-5 advantage.

Engineers then started to roll. Cuddy picked up yards on a reverse and Webb went through center to move the yardsticks again. On the next down Kuwahara was held but Fairbairn skirted around the end for a good gain before being tackled by Laurie Wiggins.

Webb gained yards and Setters and Kuwahara added six more before Richardson kicked to Mackay at the Meds' one-yard line. O'Brien yard on two downs and Mackay booted to Cuddy who was tackled by Wiggins at the change over.

Setters advanced a couple of yards on a reverse and Bradshaw kicked to Grisdale. Drouin went around right end for eight yards and Bradshaw moved the stakes to the Engineers' 20.

Nishio kicked over the Engineers' line, but Cuddy ran the ball out. Setters threw an incomplete pass but later Wiggins and Bradshaw moved the stakes to the Engineers' 20.

Frankie Crosetti Is Toasted For Yankees Win Over Cards

By SID FEDER ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The scattered pieces of the busted St. Louis Cardinal bubble were being swept up yesterday as Frankie Crosetti was handed the bouquets and half a dozen Red Birds tried on sets of goat horns from the late lamented world series.

One and all agreed no blockbuster event ever went off any louder than the explosion of the Cardinal win in this year's fall classic. What was the Cardinal supremacy? If that was the case, why did the Cardinals find it so hard to win four games to one for the 1943 world championship in their history. The Cards were as well beaten as the parlor rug in spring housecleaning.

It was a nice fairy tale that St. Louis no-softies had written by taking the 1942 series—about how they never beat themselves. But if it was a fairy tale, the Cardinals find it so hard to win four games to one for the 1943 world championship in their history. ## Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The hard-to-understand point about the world series is why there isn't more showmanship in the world's greatest sports show. . . . Just that isn't more showmanship, especially in New York, are real baseball fans. . . . Yet little effort is made to tell the customers about the players other than giving their names over the P.A. system when they come to bat. . . . Why not give them individual introductions and have each one take a bow when the lineups are being read off? . . .

Yankee pitcher Rarus Russo, who started St. Louis fans with his two hits Sunday, started out as a first baseman and a pretty fair pitcher but was converted into a flinger when Brooklyn College was suffering from a manpower shortage in that department.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal. "There seems nothing like a world series to take the public's mind off the war and the Cardinals' off baseball."

SECOND THOUGHTS
Lt.-Cmdr. Mal Stevens, former Yale and New York university coach, remarked: "I think coaches are vastly overrated in explaining Tuesday that he set up the wrong defense for his Sampson naval training station team to use against Villanova but it worked anyway. . . . Colgate's Andy Kerr came up with the same general idea recently in telling how little time coaches have these days for detailed instruction. 'It may be a good thing for football,' said Andy. 'Perhaps the game had become overspecialized.' During a soldier boxing bout at Camp Lee, Va., the other night, one heavyweight walloped another so that the beauty of it is, NOBODY'S complaining about keeping her in our apartment, since they ALL take milk from us."

Lacrosse Injury Proves Serious To Bert Large

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 13.—(CP)—Veteran Mimico-Brampton goalie Bert Large with a record of 19 years in Canadian lacrosse including two years as a pro with Toronto Maple Leafs may be out of the game for life as a result of a knee injury suffered in the Mann Cup finals here, Combines coach Chuck Davidson said last night.

Large suffered a broken knee cartilage when he went down for a shot in the second period of the first game of the finals Saturday night between Combines and New Westminster Salmonbellies. Phip Harrison was substituted and Combines went on to win 10-9 but lost the second game Monday night to the fishermen 10-3.

Davidson disclosed Large had been taken to hospital for treatment of the injury when he seriously became apparent. An operation on the knee is now planned in a Vancouver hospital and his outcome will decide the veteran goalie's lacrosse future.

Large is now hobbling around on crutches.

18,454 PERSONS DAILY
These million figures are more comprehensible when broken down into an average of 18,454 persons who went to the track daily this season: each person betting an average of $10.30 a race, and an average of $78.80 a day. That's 18,454 persons in per capita wagering on race sport over an extended period. Last year an average of 14,842 persons each bet $7.9 a race and $60.76 a day.

Three racing plants operated in the metropolis during these 190 golden days, but only one at a time — Belmont, Aqueduct and Jamaica. Belmont's concluding meeting closed Saturday and Monday the horses started running again at Jamaica where they will continue until well into November. By that time the total mutual handle for '43 may approach $275,000,000.

The daily average handle this year has been $1,567,177, exceeding last year's average of $801,901 per day. A new all-time record, handling for a single day was established at Aqueduct on Labor Day when 40,826 persons wagered $2,067,702. That was when With Regards won the $100,000 Aqueduct Handicap.

REASON FOR BIG CROWDS
RACING officials give three reasons for the big crowds and heavy betting at the track: (1) The public's prosperity; (2) The public's inability to spend money on such things as new automobiles, radios, and luxuries; and (3) The public's war-sharpened eye for entertainment.

The officials do not believe that this golden era of racing will continue for long after the war ends—when "things get back to normal." There will be more outlets for spending then.

But brother, if Columbus made his discovery today, he could report back to Isabella, "I've found a gold mine, down Jamaica way." And he wouldn't be referring to the West Indies.

Sandlot Sign-Up Set For March
TORONTO, Oct. 13.—(CP)—A continent-wide registration of sandlot baseball players has been set for March 25, 1944, the national baseball congress announced Tuesday.

Under the plan, any male from 15 to 30 years of age who wants to play baseball may register at one of the 8,500 sporting goods stores throughout Canada and the United States. Special blanks will be provided on which the player is to state his age, address, playing position and previous baseball experience.

"From an estimated 1,500,000 persons who will register, movements will follow to organize them into teams in each section," said the announcement, made by Canadian Commissioner Lloyd Douglas with approval of President Ray Dumont.

Hard that the victim's head thumped the floor, joined an electrical connection loose and the lights went out—when they came on again, referee Joe Bauer, already had counted the boy out and he was being hoisted to a stool in his corner and that's comments Wilbur Jennings, the Richmond News-Leader sports scribe, "is one worse than being paid off in the dark."

Walker Cooper's Finger Fractured

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' catcher, Walker Cooper, suffered a compound fracture of the index finger of his right hand in Monday's final world series game, x-ray pictures disclosed yesterday.

Cooper's finger at first was thought to be only dislocated when struck by a foul tip. Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club surgeon, said he did not think the injury would interfere with Cooper's catching in the future.

Stagg System Still Working

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Ten years ago Alonzo Stagg kicked over the traces and decided that life for him as a football coach would begin at 71.

This season, a decade later, the oldest and most famed gridiron strategist in the United States, in his 81st year, is still coaching the opposition with one of his best teams. His college of the Pacific elite is a host of the coast, unbeaten four-game winner with the hides of some big ones tucked up in the trophy room.

Stagg put Pacific on the sports map and today in his 11th season and his 54th year of coaching he directs a team that already has beaten St. Mary's Navy Pre-Flight, the University of California at Los Angeles, and the University of California, in addition to the least strong Alameda Coast Guard.

How has he done it? With a batch of good material, for a change, and his own style of play—the "stagg system." He copies from no other coach.

Not a Memorable Affair

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The truth is that the 40th classic of the diamond was not a memorable world series. It drew larger crowds than last year's record attendance, produced a new high players' pool and provided more than $300,000 for war charities, yet it fell short by the one standard on which it can be measured against previous classics—good baseball performance.

This, perhaps, was to be expected because both the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals were of necessity makeshift ball clubs and had players on the field who would not have been even on the bench in peace time.

The result was a jittery, jumbled exhibition in which 13 errors were made in five games and the series was decided on breaks rather than on baseball skill. The Yankees deserved to win because they had the championship spirit to take advantage of the openings where they occurred.

Pitching, which decides most series and which was the one reason

Rugby Play-Off Dates May Be Interrupted Again

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—(CP)—The almost annual controversy over playing dates for the east-west football final hasn't faded so far this season but arrangements for preliminaries to the national classic already are approaching the committee-form stage.

This time, it was learned here last night, an application by the Quebec Rugby Union to participate in Grey Cup playdowns may be the clincher in arranging play-off dates. Constitutionally, the Canadian Rugby Union is bound to stage its Grey Cup final not later than Nov. 27. On the other hand, the Ontario Rugby Football Union can't decide its own representative until Nov. 20 without accelerating existing play-off arrangements, thus leaving no open date for a meeting with the Quebec champions.

So the O.R.F.U. had decided to call a meeting here Friday in an effort to find some method of revising its schedule to accommodate the Quebec Union. Officials of the C.R.U. have been invited to attend the meeting.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Men in America "Off" Domestic Thrones

Educated Women Refine Crude Males While Cultured Husbands Seldom Improve or Make Change in Wives

A correspondent says: "According to the law of the land, the husband is the head of the house. He is supposed to establish the official status of the family and to be the one who, in common parlance, rules the roost. But is this true? The man is, of course, dominant in the business, but in his home doesn't the average man play pretty much as he pleases? He doesn't wear the breeches, and I don't mean slacks either."

Right you are, Mister. In this country, at least, women by hook or crook, or by subtlety or wiles, have somehow managed to ease men off the domestic throne and have grabbed it for themselves. Any Gull poll would show that in ninety-nine households out of a hundred it is the woman who settles all the family problems, without having even to consult Husband about them, and when there is any argument between them over any matter he compromises by doing her way.

BETTER FOR WIFE TO BE SUPERIOR

Whether this is for the general good or not is open to discussion, but, nevertheless, it is a fact that, taking them by and large, wives have far more influence over their husbands than husbands have over their wives. And when a couple are not evenly matched it is better for the man himself, and for the general interest of the family, for the wife to be the superior one. One is that in a modern civilization a man takes his social position, as a general thing, from his wife. She boosts him up, or pulls him down. She decides when he shall know and he gravitates to her crowd.

When a woman marries, she can open the doors of her own set or her husband, but a man cannot force his friends to accept his wife unless she belongs to their own kind and knows the password. Mary may marry a very rough diamond and take him with her into the house, but her husband, like John Marley, an uncouth woman, every door will be barred to her. Why a wife finds it easier to lift a husband up to her level than a husband to hush his wife up to his, is one of the inexplicable mysteries of matrimony. It just happens that way in a man marriage.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When a country is not at war it is all inclined to be wasteful of everything that we measure with a levelling hand, sure that when anything is gone there will be more to take its place.

We cannot do this now. Every drop of medicine, every spoonful of food, every garment we own should be used economically so that everyone can have what they need. If

Vitamin A is one of the essentials for night-vision pilots and cod-liver oil is a combination of vitamins A and D, it was once customary to give both plain oil and concentrated oil with a generous hand, considering any excess to be purely superfluous, better protection from rickets. Now that we must conserve our supplies, only as much as is needed for protection or cure.

The dosage of plain oil used to be upward of three teaspoonfuls a day. Now the maximum dosage for adults is one teaspoonful, and for children, half a teaspoonful. The dosage for concentrated oils of vitamin A is one drop for adults and half a drop for children. The protective dose is three drops of cod liver oil for adults and one drop for children. It is best to consult a doctor, but mothers should be prepared for these smaller amounts because they have been so customized to so much larger doses.

A medicine dropper should be used to give these drop doses exactly. There is little danger of any of the excess of the prescribed dose being spit out by swallowing. The dose should be given in the back of the tongue, so swallowing is automatic. If plain oil is used, the dose should be given in the oil in the teaspoon at one time. Put a drop of cod liver oil in the oil and let it mix. It is best to cap the spoon with milk.

It is best to give the oil in the back of the mouth to cause him to chew or to draw the oil into the throat, as it is dangerous, as well as wasteful.

Take time to do this daily job carefully and neatly, saving every drop of this essential vitamin so that it will be good to the great number of babies and soldiers.

Anti-Rickets League," attempts to

By MALCOLM TAYLOR

THE STORY: Capt. Raymond Imhof, 42-4, U.S. Army Intelligence, has been assigned to follow General Joseph, 42-4, leading to certain important information regarding the enemy. Imhof is about to parachute into enemy territory from an B-24 observation plane when there is a cascade of turret bullets and Pilot Officer Bradford slams over the wheel.

CHAPTER VI

ONE look at the figure at his side was enough for Imhof. His only thought now was to bail out of the plunging plane. He reached up to open the emergency panel. But it would not budge. He tried to smash it.

"Easy!" came the sharp, clear command, quite audible in the engine's descent.

Sheer surprise, rather than the command itself, stung Imhof's hand.

"Sit tight! I'm bringing her out of this."

As the pilot spoke the spinning motion grew less, then ended. Next moment the abrupt transition from vertical to horizontal flight placed Imhof's shoulders to the back of his seat.

"Not a scratch," the other answered, doing things with the throttle. But the engine did not speak. Only the plane's momentum spun the propeller.

Danforth nudged down into a glide again, but the shallowness of glide this time, just preserving flying speed.

"Orders!" he said crisply.

"She won't fly!"

"Put lines out. Have to land." Imhof thought fast. Bail out? Or stick with the plane?

"Thank you can land without HOLD EVERYTHING"

"BURLESQUE"

"I thought the pilot was kind of weak, didn't you, professor?"

"Laff a-day"

"I always walk through here. Who knows? Maybe some trees have soldiers in them!"

breaking our necks!" he demanded. "Yes. Can't promise, naturally. 'Go to it!' said Imhof.

"Say where," the pilot pressed. "We're getting down."

Rapid fire as had been the interchanges between pilot and passenger, the plane had lost much altitude. Crossing its line of flight lay the river Moselle, still clearly visible as water always is when seen from above at night.

A laugh from Danforth made Imhof turn.

"I think we could take this landing to look like a proper crash," the pilot remarked.

"How?" The question was eager. Danforth did not answer at once. Instead, he looked at the altimeter, then "second forward, seeming to measure distances.

"Can do," he murmured. "Mind getting your feet wet?" he went on, turning to Imhof with a grin. For a split second Imhof failed to see the relevancy of the question. Then, "You mean—?" he began.

"Land in the river. Sink the plane."

"We'll do it!" Imhof exclaimed. Sarcasm question and answer now shuttled swiftly back and forth.

"Know this part of the Moselle?" asked Danforth.

"Quite well," Imhof had cannot here and tramped the shores in his old vacation days at Bonn.

"Deep enough to drown the plane?"

"Midstream."

"No. The channel."

"Know where it is?"

"Not from here."

"You lower down?"

"I think so."

"Take off your parachute and when you don't want to wear ashore."

Imhof did so, fast. Then, "What about you?" he asked.

"Take the stick a second."

"The never frown."

"That's all right. Hold everything just as it is."

Imhof nodded, then they exchanged places, and it was seemed no time Danforth got rid of his parachute and straps, kicked off flying boots and peeled out of his heavy flying suit.

When Danforth slipped back into his seat again the plane was low down and the river not far ahead.

"Where do you splash?" he asked. They were approaching the Moselle at the upper end of a straight stretch of considerable length. Imhof looked and suddenly recognized the spot. Those steep high cliffs rising from the river on the left bank of course! The Bend. That was Culbert at the bend above. Whinnings would be round the bend downstream. What luck!

"See those cliffs on the near bank?" he asked. "The river?"

"It is well known to physicians that patients suffering from chronic disorders over a period of years, fail to realize that the return to normal health cannot be accomplished in a day, or week, or even a month, and to correct the systematic poisoning and tissue havoc wrought by years of bad living habits, may take several months or even more. Your columnist has always endeavored to stress the importance of preventive disease and this job is an individual one, and in order to help yourself and others you must have a job that cannot be assigned to 'George'."

Our Public Health Department has made great strides in hygiene and sanitation and in disease prevention, but it is still up to the individual matter, one which is of the greatest importance to the welfare health and happiness of every North American. One of the greatest "mediums" which is the food we eat, and unfortunately there is still much ignorance on the subject as far as the general population is concerned.

Good food is so inexpensive that it is within the reach of all and in order to gain health and build resistance against infection, all that is required, from a food viewpoint, is to know what to eat and how to combine foods in the proper proportions.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must be addressed to: Address: McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1155 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Bracken Plans Speaking Tour Through Alberta

CALGARY, Oct. 12 (CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, will make a speaking tour of the province, starting at Medicine Hat about October 25, it was learned today.

His itinerary is not yet complete but it is expected he will visit Lethbridge, Claresholm, Drumheller, Red Deer, Lacombe, Stettin, Camrose and Wainwright. He may visit both Calgary and Edmonton but it is not anticipated he will hold public meetings at either city.

Manitoba Civil Servants Given Bonus Increase

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12 (CP)—Premier Stuart's St. George's announced last night that the cost-of-living index (and Manitoba's civil servants) will be increased 100 per cent and made retroactive to Oct. 1. Decision to increase the bonus from $4 to $8 monthly for single employees and from $8 to $16 monthly for married workers was made as a gesture of coalition government's supporters. More than 1,800 employees will receive the bonus.

FARTHING TO STAY

LONDON—CP.—The farthing, value 1 cent—here is stay. Asked to eliminate farthings when fixing food prices, the Food Ministry said an extra farthing on the price would make the trader's margin of profit too low and if taken off would make it too low.
